OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER.

The official count shows St. Louis to have a population of 460,357.

It is rumored that the shot towers of the country are forming a gigantic trust.

Geo. P. Peck, the humorist, was nominated by the democrats of Wisconsin, last week, for governor.

Ex-Paymaster-General Geo. F. Collier died at his residence in Washington, D. C., last Monday, aged 71 years.

Labor day was observed in nearly all the large cities. Business was suspended and there were large parades at many places.

McKinley is laying plans to be nominated for governor next year and if elected governor he hopes to be the republican nominee for president in 1892.

Wake Evans, the sole survivor of the band that followed Custer into Sitting Bull's village, was taken to the insane asylum in Harrison county, Ind., last Tuesday.

Sarah Mison, a little girl eight years of age, recently drowned herself at Manchester, N. H., because her father forgot to kiss her when he left home in the morning.

Frank Adler, a steely-tempered St. Louis, fell from the steeple of the German Methodist church last Wednesday, a distance of nearly 200 feet, and was instantly killed.

C. F. Cochran has been nominated by the democrats of the second senatorial district for congress. Mr. Cochran has been the editor of the Gazette for some years.

Voorhees, of Indiana, made the greatest speech of his life in the senate, Wednesday afternoon. It is described as the most brilliant tariff effort of the past half century.

The Farmington Times does not seem to be giving Jasper Burke a very warm support for election to the senate. Bruce up, Bro. Fisher. This is no time to "swamp horses."

Need, Boutelle and Blaine are making speeches in Maine this week, but it will take more than the navy yard contingent and the Blaine oratory to return Reed to congress.

Lee Meriwether and H. Martin Williams represented Missouri in the single tax league convention, held this week in New York. Henry George presided over the assemblage.

There are indications that Blaine's "reciprocity" platform is an anchor to windward for the support of western republicans, and that the Globe-Democrat is following in the wake.

A negro man named Charles Thomas was murdered, his body cut to pieces and partially burned at Neosho, Mo., last week. His wife and children are suspected and have been arrested.

First Assistant Postmaster-General Clarkson has concluded his work in the postoffice department and will return to private life. Chauncey I. Filley is spoken of as his successor.

T. C. Platt, of New York, declined the Spanish mission when it was offered him two months ago and now declares he is not a candidate for the United States senate. In fact he wants no office.

James Wigley, aged 60, and Miss Anna Cascar, aged 17, were married in Paris, Texas, last Friday. Wigley had been married twice before. The girl he married is the niece of his first and daughter of his second wife.

Sullivan's debut upon the dramatic stage was the occasion for howls of delight from the gallery gods. The critics declared the pugilist a rank failure as an actor, while the pugilist severely maintained that he made a great hit.

On motion of Mr. Tarasew the senate bill authorizing the Lexington postoffice bridge company to construct a bridge across the Missouri river at Lexington and legislating the bridge already constructed at that point, was passed in the house.

Representative M. L. Snyder, of Ohio, was forced to withdraw from the committee to investigate the charges against Pension Commissioner Ramm because he owned some stock in the retractor company organized by Ramm some time ago, and which is involved in the inquiry.

Speaker Reed addressed an audience of republicans at Boston, on Wednesday night. He arraigned the democratic party for its "parasitism" in the management of national finances, and congratulated the republican party for having done away with the surplus. If this isn't gall, what is it?

The republicans of the first congressional district have nominated F. M. Harrington, of Adair county, to run the losing race against Mr. Hatch. This fact is interesting only because it knocks out the candidacy of John M. London, who announced himself an independent candidate in the hope that the republicans would support him.

The state democratic committee met last Saturday and formally declared the campaign open. Appointments were made in southwest Missouri for Hon. John C. Tarasew and Hon. C. F. Cochran; in the northeast for Hon. W. O. L. Jewett, and in the southeast for Hon. H. Martin Williams. Other appointments will be announced at the next meeting of the committee, on September 10.

The land in the vicinity of Lake Country has recently been ceded to the city of St. Joseph. The farmers in the neighborhood objected to having a canal cut between the upper and lower lakes and when the workmen appeared and went to work three farmers came away with shot guns and drove them away. The farmers have a road across the bar and do not wish to have it destroyed. The city authorities applied to the prosecuting attorney for a warrant for the arrest of the farmers which he refused until he was able to look into the law.

PLATFORM OF THE MISSOURI REPUBLICANS.

The platform adopted by the Missouri republicans in their state convention last week, is a curious compound of empty platitudes, and affirmations utterly inconsistent with their practices and contrary to their purposes.

The Globe-Democrat, commenting upon the platform in general, remarks that it has the latest effort of the republicans in the state of Missouri.

It is said that the acceptance of platforms is coupled with a great many mental reservations. The peculiarity of this latest effort is that it is taken from beginning to ending, and is in its general affirmations exactly the opposite of what the republicans in that convention believed.

For instance, the platform endorses "the present national administration as wise, patriotic and faithful to the party and the people."

This was anything but the sentiment of that convention. It was almost exclusively a Filley crowd, and the individual and collective feeling against Harrison and Noble was boastfully pronounced. There was no sort of respect or sympathy for the national administration and its indorsement was simply a lie.

It indorsed the work of congress in demoralizing silver, and yet there is not a republican in the state outside of a few gold-bugs, who does not honestly condemn this action of congress, and who does not at heart approve the democratic policy of free and unlimited coinage.

It affirms a friendship for the farmer and claims to oppose monopolies, combat trusts and trusts in the state, and yet it is not a party whose whole record has been one of encouragement to monopolies. It fosters them by its legislation, protects them by its tariff and asks nothing in return except that the fat may be tried out of them for party purposes.

It says some meaningless things about coining "a tariff" that will meet the conditions of all classes of industries and labor, yet it knows full well that no intelligent republican farmer in Missouri favors the McKinley bill, and that its passage would be a blight worse than a drought upon the farming interests of Missouri, and the west.

The convention simply stultified itself when it gave even a quasi endorsement of the tariff bill.

It, however, indorses unequivocally the Blaine idea of reciprocity with the South American states, an idea utterly inconsistent with the theory of protection. If reciprocity be a good thing with South American states, with whom we do little trading, why should it not do better with European states, with whom we trade almost exclusively?

The plank cannot consistently indorse both Blaine and McKinley, but consistency appears not to be a jewel that stands republican platforms in Missouri.

It denounces the delays of justice in the supreme court of the state, yet withholds the fact that a democratic legislature has submitted a constitutional amendment providing for an increase of the court—a measure opposed by the republicans in the legislature and which will probably be opposed by them at the polls for no better reason than that it is a democratic measure and intended for the relief of litigants and the expedition of justice. The affirmation was not even far enough to tell the plain truth that the court is overworked.

It claims that officers of the state entrusted with the preservation of the funds in the treasury have made the credit and funds of the state an instrument with which to retain control of the state government. The stupidest ass in the convention did not believe this calumny when he voted for the resolution; and it also has the audacity to talk about "a defaulter giving unwelcome justice." It has not the common sense to tell the truth that the bondsmen of the defaulter state treasurer promptly restored the stolen money and interest, and that a democratic grand jury promptly indicted the defaulter, and that his trial will take place at the first term of the court.

The only honest plank of the republican platform is that which calls for pensions and indorse Speaker Reed. It even straddled the fence on the force bill. Altogether it is a sham and a fraud, entirely unworthy of the party, cowardly, untruthful and mendacious. To crown the actions of the convention after praising the farmer in its platform it proceeded to nominate a man for railroad commissioner who is the creature of Jay Gould and a servant of his corporation.

We were much pleased by a call from Hon. R. E. Anderson Friday last. Mr. Anderson has been at the head of the Missouri order of this state, and is one of the most prominent lawyers in Missouri; his father, the Hon. Thomas L. Anderson, was in congress two terms and was a war horse for speaking—Boonville Democrat.

Dr. T. Hodge Jones, a former well known citizen of Laclede county, is attending the reunion and is a supporter of the state, and is an ardent supporter of the thorough classical curriculum in the colleges. The professor is a thorough classical scholar. He thinks Nevada the finest little city in Missouri—Nevada Mail.

moved with his family last week to Mexico, Mo., where he goes to take charge of the Fleet Military school recently founded by his father. Prot. Fleet and family have many warm friends here who deeply regret their leaving Columbia. We wish him much success in his new undertaking.

Roy, R. C. G. is assisting in a projected meeting at Neosho, was robbed last Saturday night. He was stopping with Dr. Woods at Scarrett Institute, and during the night the house was burglarized. Mr. C. G. lost his purse and pocketbook, but his watch was not taken. The pocketbook with contents intact, valuable papers, were found in the yard next morning, where the thief had thrown it. The thief got only a small sum of money—Nevada Mail.

John W. Duley, living near Upton, in the north part of the county, was born in the same house in Harlan Co., Ky., on the rolling foot of Licking river, that Abraham Lincoln was born in. It was a double house made of hewed logs. Mr. Duley's mother and Mr. Lincoln were double cousins. Mr. Duley is now sixty-eight years of age, and a farmer by occupation. He traces relationship to the Mannings and Sterlings of families of Missouri, and to General Winfield Scott—Memphis Democrat.

Hon. M. E. Benton, of Neosho, Mo., addressed a meeting of the people of the city last Saturday evening on the political issues of the day. Notwithstanding the haste in which the arrangements for the speaking were concluded, and short notice both to speaker and people, by the time the orator was ready to speak, the hall was so full that people had assembled. Col. Benton's address was pointed and effective and one eminently calculated to perpetuate for himself the great and enviable reputation which he has so long enjoyed—that of being the greatest political orator of the southwest—Southwest Leader.

Joseph C. Craven was nominated for judge of this judicial circuit on Tuesday. Judge Craven was appointed by Gov. Francis a year ago last May, this being made a new judicial circuit of the four counties of Newton, Barry, McDonald and Stone in very bad condition from the neglect of former republican judges, but now has the business up to date and in proper shape. Judge Craven deserves much credit for his energy and industry in labor and just decisions. He has made a faithful and upright judge and his decisions have been generally confirmed by the supreme court and court of appeals—Neosho Times.

In Cooper county, Missouri, on the twentieth day of August, 1890, Henry M. Mills and Miss Susan V. Lewis were united in the bonds of matrimony, within sight of the place where they were married. The ceremony was celebrated their golden wedding. They happily side by side for fifty years. Their children are: Hon. Chas. P. Johnson, of St. Louis, as the democratic candidate for governor in 1892. Mr. Johnson is a good man but the next democratic gubernatorial candidate will not be a citizen of St. Louis. This is official—Columbia Herald.

L. A. Gordon, secretary of the state horticultural society, estimates the value of Missouri's fruit crop this year at $10,000,000. He regards the apple crops the most important of all, and says that in raising this standard fruit Missouri will be the banner state this year.

Prof. Gible, who is to have charge of the department of music in our female college, arrived in Lexington this week. He has a widespread reputation as an instructor of the divine art, and will not fail to exert an influence toward the success of the institution—Advance.

We are glad to note the renomination of Hon. Thomas W. Mabrey, of Ripley county, who was an efficient, energetic member of the last Missouri house of representatives. He is bright, capable young gentleman whose future is full of promise—Columbia Herald.

Hon. Bryant O. Cowan, our next congressman (of course), was here Tuesday making up the sinners and sold hearted of parties. He is a man who follows him wherever he goes. The prohibitionists have had a revolution this year. The growth of departed spirits have spoken to them—Craig Leader.

The Globe, a Kansas City radical sheet, is trying to make Rev. Pope Yeaman the next governor of Missouri. Nearly every issue of that paper is filled with senseless abuse of the reverend gentleman and is making him triends at a rate that is measured alone by its limited circulation—Marshall Democrat-News.

Prof. J. W. Sandusky, of Lafayette county, is in the city visiting friends. He is one of the leading educators of the state, and is an ardent supporter of the thorough classical curriculum in the colleges. The professor is a thorough classical scholar. He thinks Nevada the finest little city in Missouri—Nevada Mail.
